

Research Canvas Workshop

Oslo Science Park – 12th of December – 09:00 – 13:00

Learn how to see the real value of your research

Join this Science for Society Workshop focusing on how can you communicate your work and boost your research value to potential partners, users, industry or investors?

You will be guided through the Research Canvas – a science communication tool developed by iMinds, Belgium. Research Canvas allows you to talk about your research to a broad audience of professionals – not just your fellow researchers. Free participant-lunch served at end of event. See also event website.
